

POUNDED TO DEATH BY HIS NEIGHBOR.

The Results of an Old Feud—A Trap Gun Set and a Man Wounded.

HORNELLVILLE, Sept. 5.—Mrs. William Hollister of Almond went to the house of John Hastings on Sunday, and after talking about usual matters, said:

"Old Al Linkletter is lying in the road in front of our house."

Mr. Hastings and another man hurried to the spot. They found the man in the middle of the road, his face beaten to a jelly, his chest crushed, and blood pouring from his mouth. He was dead.

They carried him to his home near by, where he recovered consciousness for a few minutes. He said he had been shot at, and had run away, but was overtaken by William Hollister and pounded into unconsciousness.

Al Linkletter had lived for many years in a miserly hut outside of town, and had never paid rent to this village. He lives alone, and, although well to do, was always poor. He had a son, John, who had moved between him and his neighbor, Hollister, arising from some trivial quarrel. Al Linkletter had during the past year or two been a tramp, collecting alms, and had trespassed wantonly on his premises, and caused him much trouble. Hollister had been compelled to pay him in payment for his house. The man was discharged that night, and Hollister's son was unable to leave the house, but was soon sent to a hospital, where he died in some way which was never fully explained.

Linkletter, however, was still at large, and left for home early in the evening. Hollister did not appear at last accounts, to meet the charge made against him, and the coroner's inquest was adjourned. A physician was sent for the neighbors saying that the child was apparently the result of a feud, with which they had no concern.

The State Won't Lose the Money.

BUFFALO, Sept. 5.—Henry Zink, a real estate dealer, with others, was sure to be the State's cause deposit in the defunct First National Bank. Last week a judgment of nearly $900,000 in favor of the State was given, and Mr. Zink has placed the money with H. D. Smith, of Smith & Co., who are to hold it until the trial is over, and is satisfied that the trial shall have the money. Zink is reluctantly compelled here.
